

Changes to key roads in Bulleen

Fact Sheet
February 2024

Artist's impression of Manningham Road interchange with North East Link open

We're upgrading key roads in Bulleen to make way for the simpler Manningham Road interchange, a new wetland, and an Indigenous cultural precinct

The new Manningham Road interchange will shift 14,700 vehicles a day from Bulleen Road to the North East Link tunnels – returning local roads to the community and preserving the historic River Red Gum on Bridge Street.

For around two years, eastbound traffic on Manningham Road will be redirected onto Bridge Street to create the space needed to build the North East Link tunnel entry and exit ramps. Works are already underway next to Bridge Street, Manningham Road and Bulleen Road in preparation for these changed traffic conditions.

During these works, there will be some lane closures, intersection closures and detours in place to keep you moving. These changes will help to reduce disruptions as we get underway with building the North East Link tunnels.

Once the tunnel ramps are built, we'll make more changes to the intersection at Manningham Road, Bulleen Road and Bridge Street to further enhance safety for all road users.

There will be some delays for commuters during these works, though we're working hard to minimise disruptions to the community, road users, local schools and businesses.

We encourage you to stay up to date with traffic conditions via the VicRoads website or northeastlink.vic.gov.au

What changes are occurring?

Pedestrian access

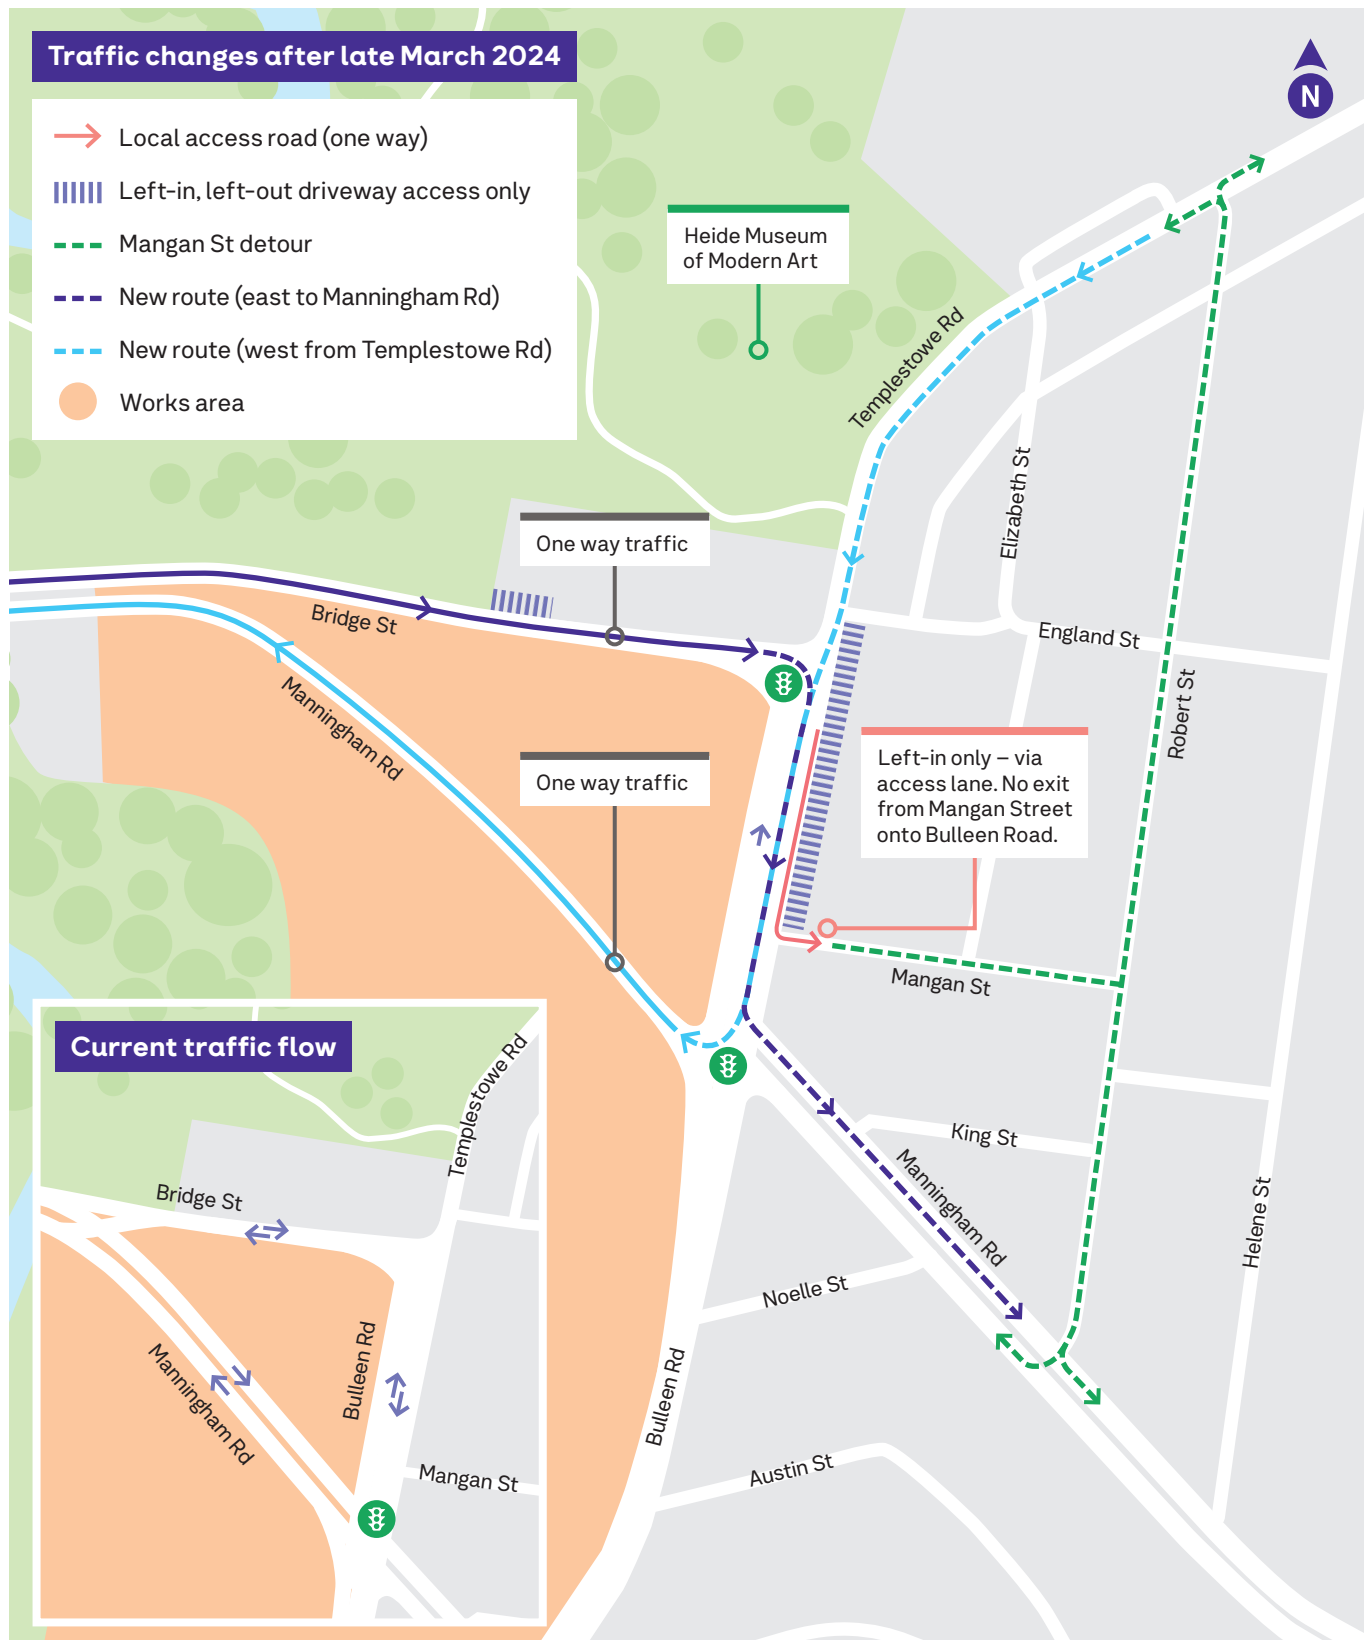

We'll be installing traffic lights at the corner of Bulleen Road and Bridge Street to improve safety for road users and pedestrians. We'll also build a new footpath on the northern side of Bridge Street to improve access into Banksia Park.

New Bulleen Road access lane

To improve safety for road users, we'll need to remove some on-street parking on the east side of Bulleen Road, north of Manningham Road.

Mangan Street access

The new access lane alongside Bulleen Road will allow cars to turn left into Mangan Street. There will be no exit from Mangan Street onto Bulleen Road – road users will detour via Robert Street or Elizabeth Street.

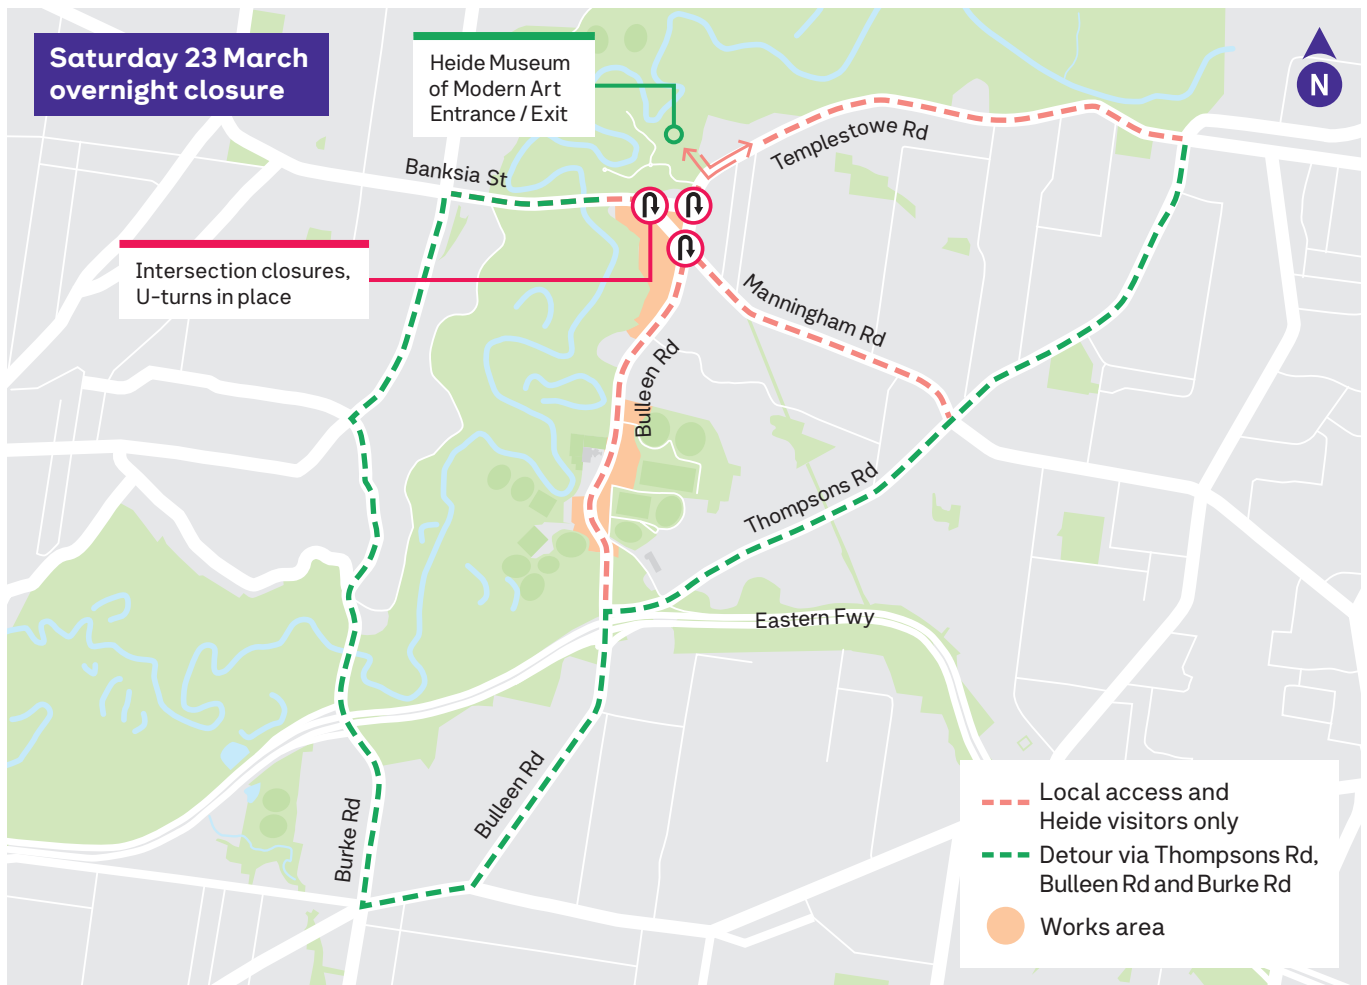

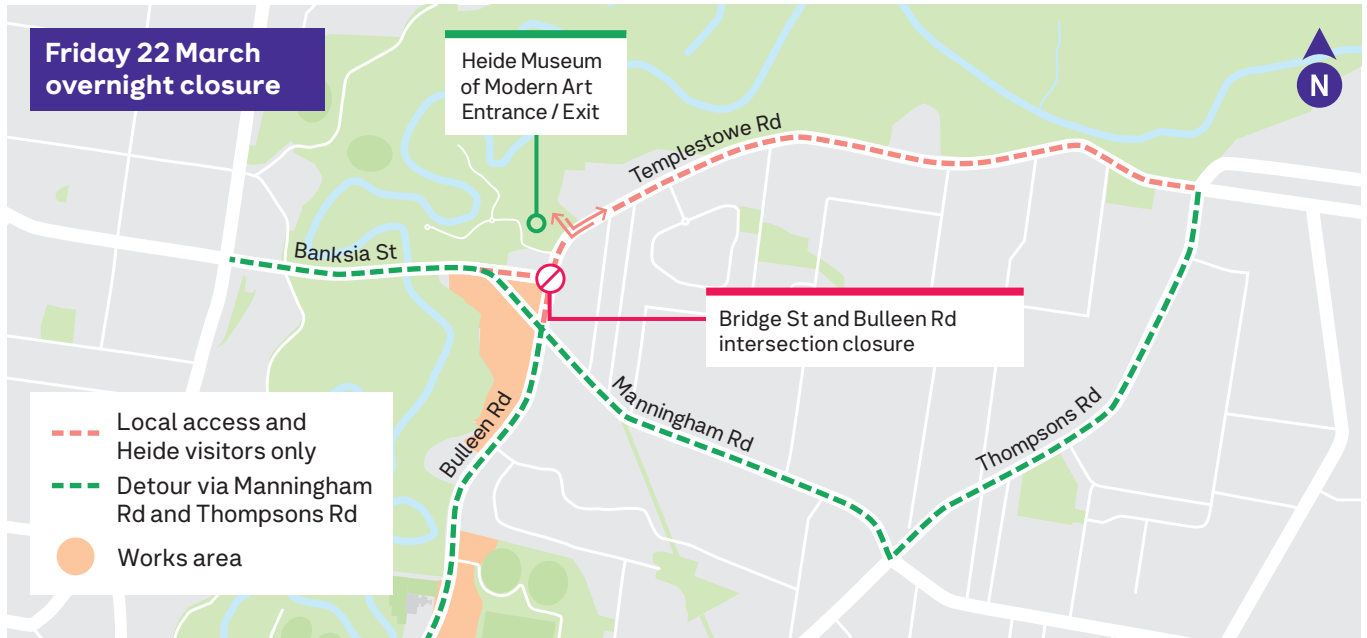

Overnight intersection closures

In late March, intersections along Manningham Road, Bulleen Road and Bridge Street will be closed overnight for up to two nights.

If you're travelling to Heide Museum of Modern Art during their business operating hours, 10am to 4pm Tuesday to Friday, and 10am to 5pm Saturday and Sunday, you will not be impacted.

If you're attending an event at Heide during one of the weekend night closures, there will be changes to the way you access the business. During these two-night closures, you can still access Heide via Templestowe and Thompsons roads. Traffic management will be in place to help you move through the area safely.

Bulleen's
OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Protecting and maintaining the operations of the Bulleen Road traders is a priority for North East Link.

As we continue works to make it easier and safer to travel in the area, Bulleen Traders will stay open and we encourage locals to support these businesses.

Safety barriers installed on the Eastern Freeway ahead of major upgrades.

BIG BUILD EASTERN FREEWAY

We're building a brand new interchange on Bulleen Road, to connect an upgraded Eastern Freeway to the 6.5 kilometre North East Link tunnels in Bulleen.

Over the next few weeks, we'll continue night works on Thompsons and Bulleen roads to create space to build the new interchange.

We're also extending the newly built Bulleen Road, which will run between Carey Sports Complex and Thompsons Road. This new section will create the space needed to build the North East Link tunnels entrance, while keeping traffic moving through Bulleen.
